

BioinfoGRID Symposium 2007

Bioinformatics Grid Application for life science

10-13 December 2007, Milan, Italy

The BioinfoGRID Symposium 2007 brings together experts in the field of Bioinformatics for ICT, HPC and Grid computing applications in life science.

Programme

Monday 10 December

LITBIO: Laboratory for Interdisciplinary Technology in Bioinformatics
Bioinformatics Related Projects: applications for Life Science

Tuesday 11 December

BioinfoGRID: Bioinformatics Grid Applications for Life Science
Grid-enabled Drug Discovery

Wednesday 12 December

Enabling Grids for E-science - EGEE Bioinformatics Meeting #6

Thursday 13 December

CNR-Bioinformatics: ICT applications for Bioinformatics

Programme Committee

Luciano Milanese - CNR-ITB, Italy (Conference Chair)
Claudio Arlandini - CILEA, Italy
Martin Bishop - CNR, Italy
Vicent Breton - CNRS, France
Christophe Blanchet - CNRS-IBCP, France
Yannick Legré - Healthgrid, France
Pietro Liò - University of Cambridge, UK
Charles Loomis - CERN, Switzerland
Giorgio Pietro Maggi - INFN, Italy
Martin Senger - STC, Germany
Sandor Suhai - DKFZ, Germany

Location

LITA - Aula Magna, (CNR-ITB), via Fratelli Cervi 93, 20090 Segrate, Milan, Italy

Registration

Register for the Symposium on the BioinfoGRID website.
<http://www.bioinfoGRID.eu>

For organisational reasons, only registered participants may attend the conference. There are no registration fees.

The BioinfoGRID project is funded by the European Commission - Contract no FP6-026808

<http://www.bioinfoGRID.eu/>